Special Missions Affiliate Partnerships

SMF has been engaged in helping humanitarian service organizations since 1999, developing out of the need for response to Hurricane Mitch in Honduras. From there, we've assisted hundreds of organizations and individuals in seeking resource help on many planes – human capital, organizational development, supplies of all types, field team facilitation, training, capacity building, administrative management, marketing and more.

Affiliate Partners are identified through a formal agreement that stipulates how we engage in relationship, thus ensuring we set clearly defined desired outcomes, strategies of implementation and measures of success. Although we are engaged with an unbelievably large resource of network members and their affiliates, an SMF Affiliate Partnerships ensure a quantifiable amount of resource time and energy is dedicated exclusively to that relationship. We, in essence, become a member of your team.

Affiliate Partnerships are not a 'cookie-cutter' designed relationship but instead are customized to the needs of the organization. In designing the agreement, the Organization and Special Missions Foundation corporately determines the parameters of that relationship, identifying methods of implementation in achieving defined desired outcomes. Options for reporting are embedded providing clear measure of success through dynamic communication between SMF and the Affiliate Partner and all agreements have a clearly defined 'out clause'. Terms of a formal relationship can vary from single project or initiative to an engagement extending several months to a full partnership engagement existing on a renewable annual agreement. With the full backing of an extensive network, Special Missions Foundation offers Affiliate Partnerships confidence when choosing economical, effective nonprofit organizational support.
